REFLECTIONS

From the Desk of Fr. Mark

Actionable Faith: A Reflection on the Parable of the Workers in the Vineyard

The parable of the workers in the vineyard teaches us that the life of eternal happiness is a sheer gift of God's generosity. It cannot be earned by any man or woman. The fact that the Jews were the Chosen People of God up to then was no guarantee that their future was assured, and the fact that other nations were heathens and sinners hitherto was no impediment to their entrance into heaven provided they turned to God and his Son. Often, we hear people echo that old age sentiment; Life is not fair. Absolutely life isn't fair, I concur! While it is self-evidently true that life is not fair, I believe, strongly, that God is rather merciful, and gracious to us all, regardless- "should God mark our guilt --- survive? (Psalms 130:3-5). The essence of the parable of the workers in the vineyard is that God is riotously generous, and merciful.

Our call to the vineyard, through baptism and faith, is sheer gift for which we can never sufficiently thank God. If we remain in the vineyard and labor honestly, namely, if we cooperate with the actual graces God is continuously giving us, we are assured of reaching heaven when our earthly days are ended. What exactly is the work that is expected of us in God's vineyard? I think it is clear enough. It is simply the fulfilling of the duties of our state in life. These duties, if done faithfully and honestly, will lead us to eternal life. Our duties ultimately translate to our vocations or callings. My personal summary of the duties expected of us are basically, through our words and actions, we continue to be salt to our earth (make it a better place for us all), and light to our entire world (shining examples to our world). That is my aim (vocation) in life. Our faith should always be actionable. I want to be remembered for, at least, making a positive difference in one person's life. I have always told all my young folks to bloom wherever they are planted. I want to see you grow. I want to be proud of you always. I have no doubt in my mind that you can achieve anything your desire for yourselves.

We have to thank God for his sheer generosity and goodness. He could have made the attainment of heaven more difficult. He could have demanded extraordinary mortifications and renunciations from everyone regardless, and the reward would still be exceedingly great. Instead, he allows us to live our everyday life, to enjoy the love and friendship of our family and friends, to satisfy the natural desires of our bodies, within the commandments, and yet to merit a supernatural reward while doing so. We enjoy freedom of choices in carrying out God's duties. God is deliberate in allowing us to flourish even

INSPIRATION DAILY: Forgive From Your Heart

I love today's reading… well, most of it. I love the parts that I can understand. Jesus' financial metaphor is such a viscerally concrete demonstration of how our sin affects another. Sin accrues debt. The other party has less and we owe them. Straight forward, very relatable, totally get it. Thanks for that, Jesus.

The line that gives me pause and prompts more questions than the passage answered is: "...Then in anger his master handed him over to the torturers until he should pay back the whole debt. So will my heavenly Father do to you, unless each of you forgives your brother from your heart." (Matthew 18:34-35)

Ok Jesus… how do I do that? I get the debt talk. I have multiple apps to service my debts. Not to mention that I can see when the balance hits zero and my relationship with the bank is terminated. How do I get a zero balance for my sins?! When am I done?!

Jesus' initial answer is the golden nugget for how we ought to forgive others: "I say to you, not seven times but seventy-seven times". The phrase is cryptic to modern ears, but it's an allusion to Genesis 4:24 "If Cain is avenged sevenfold, truly Lamech seventy-seven fold." As vengeful as this Old Testament figure is, Jesus is charging us to be even more "forgiving and merciful" (Ignatius Catholic Study Bible 1759).

Unlike our relationship to a bank, forgiveness and mercy do not result in terminating a relationship; they lead to greater virtue and communion. And that's why they ought to abound in us… because we will never not need communion with God and others. But the question remains: how do we do it? How do we forgive from the heart? Perhaps it looks something like giving what's been given us - boundless forgiveness and mercy. Give what's been given. Be loved and love. May we never tire of this privileged life. By Matthew Juliano

Everyone Is Invited: "The Wild Goose"

If you have been looking for something spiritual to enrich your life, please join us for "The Wild Goose," a popular 14-part Catholic documentary and video series created by Father Dave Pivonka, TOR, president of Franciscan University of Steubenville.

About the Series

The title comes from an ancient Celtic term for the Holy Spirit, describing God's untamed, powerful, and unpredictable presence. This series invites participants to encounter God's love and transforming power through the Holy Spirit, who leads us more deeply to Jesus Christ and the Father.

What to Expect

Each video is 23–29 minutes long and will be followed by group discussion. Each segment stands on its own, so you may attend any or all sessions.

Topics include how the Holy Spirit comes to us in the Sacraments, in times of need, and through spiritual gifts.

Schedule

The first seven sessions will be held on Thursdays: October 8, 15, 22, and 29; November 5, 12, and 19 at St. James Church Hall. The remaining seven sessions will begin in late January, after the holidays.
We will begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. and end at 7:30 p.m., so everyone can plan around family needs and other commitments.

Come, Holy Spirit

Do not let the past hold you back. Come and be renewed in faith as we pray together: Come, Holy Spirit.
We hope to see you on October 8 at 6:30 p.m.

Saint John Chrysostom (c. 344-407)
September 13

"Speaking truth to power" may have become just another cliché, but doing precisely that cost John "the Golden Mouth" (Chrysostom) his diocese and, after exile and a forced march, his health and life. "Renowned for eloquence, heroic in suffering" (Sacramentary), John's scriptural insights still comfort and challenge. Mystical theologian, he bids Eastern Christians, whose principal Divine Liturgy bears his name, to lift up their hearts to "God ineffable, beyond comprehension, invisible, beyond understanding, existing forever, always the same." Model pastor, he warns Roman Catholics in the Liturgy of the Hours not to neglect God-in-the-flesh: "Would you honor Christ's body? Do not scorn his nakedness, honoring him here in church with silken robes, while neglecting him cold and naked outside. What use to burden Christ's altar with golden chalices, while Christ himself starves to death? What use dressing the altar with gold-woven cloths, while denying the shivering Christ the clothes he needs? Do not adorn the church while ignoring your needy brother: he is the most precious temple of all!" (Saturday, Twenty-first Week in Ordinary Time).

SAINTS CORNELIUS (died 253) & CYPRIAN (died 258)
September 16

Cornelius was a Roman citizen, who, after 14 months without a bishop, succeeded Saint Fabian in the papacy. This new candidate created serious problems for Fabian, as he described the papal election of Cornelius as illegitimate. He was opposed to apostates, those who have abandoned their Christian faith, being received into the Church, while the new Pope Cornelius maintained that they could be readmitted after penance.

In 253, persecution was declared against Christians and Cornelius was exiled, suffering captivity and later beheading. During his exile he received a letter from Bishop Cyprian, who congratulated him for suffering in the name of Christ. Cyprian had converted to Christianity at the age of 45, renouncing his pleasant life and embracing not only the Gospel, but also Christian authors, most notably Tertullian. Thanks to his knowledge of oratory and rhetoric, he greatly promoted Christianity in Africa. As a bishop, he was firm and charitable, yet faced persecution and was also later beheaded. Both Cyprian and Cornelius are remembered in Eucharistic Prayer I of the Roman Rite. —Meghan McDonagh

Outreach Pillar Message

Make Every Person Count

The Outreach Pillar would like to thank all of our callers who did a tremendous job reaching out to so many of our parishioners. Because of the size of our Family of Parishes, we were unable to contact everyone. However, please do not worry. We will have another opportunity soon to complete this important effort, and we will let you know when it is scheduled. Our goal is to reach every parishioner.

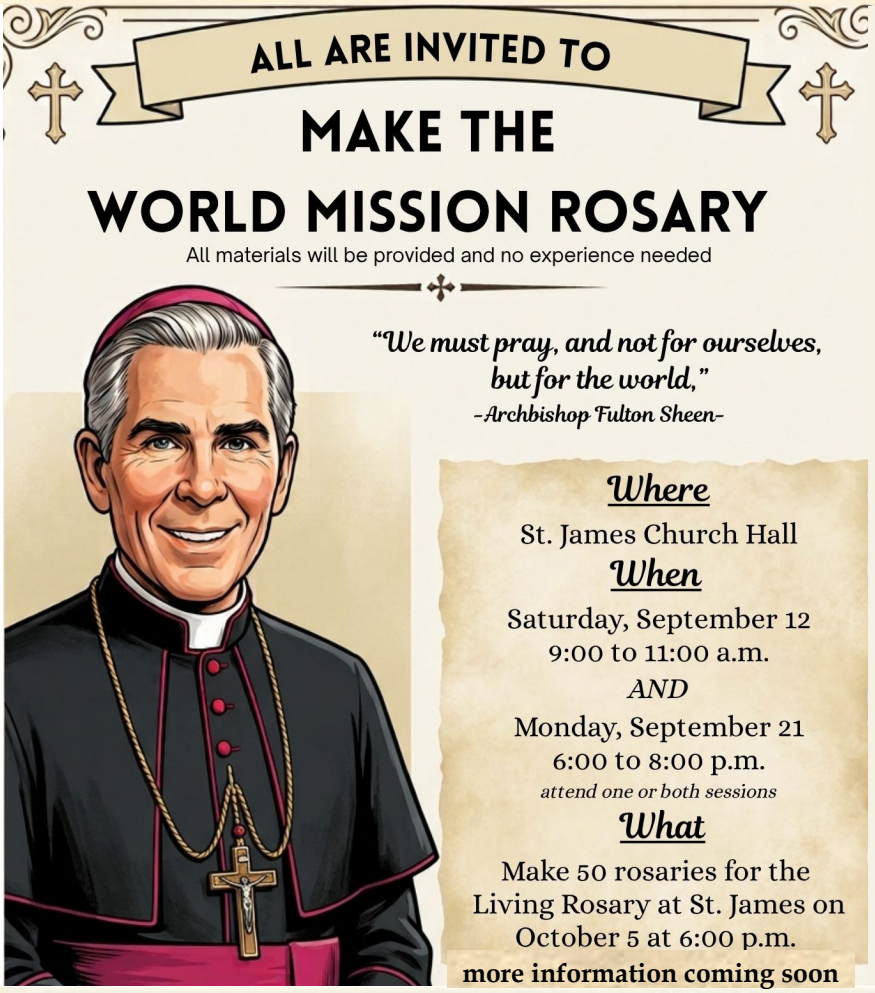
One issue that came up frequently during our calls was outdated phone numbers. When many people originally registered with their parish, they provided a landline number. Today, many of us no longer have landlines and rely solely on cell phones. It would be very helpful if you could contact the main office and verify that your contact information is current and accurate.

Thank you so much for your cooperation and support. I ask God's blessings upon all of you.

For Outreach Pillar information, please contact Mike Lennon at 716.640.2498.

Vocation News:

St. Paul writes that "None of us lives for oneself, and no one dies for oneself… we live for the Lord." Our self-absorbed culture has forgotten this. You can be a reminder by turning away from your own desires to serve Christ. Contact Fr. Dave Baker at 716.847.5535 or visit buffalovocations.org



In 1954, Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen introduced the World Mission Rosary. At the time, he served as the National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. Recognizing a tendency among the faithful to focus prayers primarily on personal or local intentions, he sought a way to visually and spiritually connect the faithful to the needs of people across every continent. His solution was simple: color-code the five decades of the traditional rosary, assigning each color to a specific region of the world.

GREEN - the forests and grasslands of Africa

RED - the fire of faith that brought the first missionaries to the Americas

WHITE - Europe, home of the Holy Father, shepherd of the world

BLUE - the ocean surrounding the Islands of the Pacific

YELLOW - the morning light of the East, symbolizing Asia

A Small Request Regarding Our Music & Missal Books

We are blessed by the many parishioners who generously look for ways to help care for our church. Your thoughtfulness and willingness to lend a hand are greatly appreciated.

We would like to ask everyone to please leave the music and missal books exactly as they are placed in the book holders and refrain from rearranging, switching or changing them after Mass.

The books are intentionally arranged in a specific order and location at the request of our Music Director to support the liturgical and music ministry needs of the parish. While we understand that some may be trying to help by organizing or moving the books, these changes actually create additional work for our staff and volunteers, who must then return everything to its proper place before the next Mass.

Your cooperation in leaving the books as they are will help us maintain consistency and ensure that everything is ready for our worship services.

Thank you for your understanding, your kindness, and your continued support of our parish community.

Together, we can help make our liturgies run smoothly for everyone.

Please remember: If a music or missal book appears out of place, kindly leave it where it is. The current arrangement is intentional.

TOGETHER, WE CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Dear Ministers of Praise,

I hope you had a wonderful summer! The season flew by, but your prayers continued to make a difference for many people in need. During the summer, I also received several prayer requests, including one from a family seeking healing and good health for their children and loved ones.

Project Safe Childhood, a Department of Justice initiative, recently asked for urgent prayer support in the fight against child exploitation. Please pray for law enforcement officers working to protect vulnerable children and for the victims who are too young to seek help themselves.

We have both sad and happy news to share. Father Don has been transferred to Niagara Falls, and we miss him greatly. We are grateful, however, to welcome Father Mark Itua as the new Parochial Vicar of our CNIF Family. Please keep him in your prayers as he begins this ministry.

Many of us attended the funeral of Father Joe Gullo, who faithfully served our community for many years. May he, and all the faithful departed, rest in peace. Amen.

Please also pray for the volunteers making phone calls to invite parishioners back to church and learn how our parish family can better serve them.

As we begin a new season, many programs are starting in September and October, including Faith Formation, Youth Ministry activities, and OCIA. We also look forward to a Franciscan University series beginning October 8, a women's retreat with Carol Mullins on October 17, Dinner & a Movie on October 24, and a youth pilgrimage to Our Lady of the Angels Basilica on October 25.

Whether you are able to attend these events or not, please pray for their success and for the safety of all involved. May the Holy Spirit fill your heart, renew your faith, and bring new life to our parish family.

God bless,

Marilyn Wozneak
